SUPERSEDING INDICTMENT

COUNT ONE

(Continuing Criminal Enterprise)

THE GRAND JURY CHARGES THAT:

INTRODUCTION

The Ton Organization

1. During the period from in or about December 2002 through on or about November 7, 2004, BENJAMIN TON organized, supervised, and managed an international drug trafficking organization (hereinafter referred to as the "Ton Organization").

2. The purposes of the Ton Organization were to import large quantities of controlled substances from Canada into the United States and to distribute them for profit to a customer base of drug traffickers in the United States, located in the Eastern District of

a. The Ton Organization imported Canadian-grown marijuana, a Schedule I controlled substance, typically in loads of 100 to 300 pounds, at prices typically ranging from $1,700 per pound to $2,700 (U.S.) per pound. Thus, a 100-pound load of marijuana would cost the Ton Organization $170,000 to $270,000. Some of the marijuana was grown outdoors, and other marijuana was grown indoors using hydroponic techniques. While much of the marijuana was standard grade, some loads consisted of premium grades; pricing varied in correspondence to the grades involved. Marijuana loads were smuggled into the United States from Canada by or on behalf of the Ton Organization on a more or less weekly basis. During the period of the importation conspiracy, the Ton Organization imported more than 10,000 kilograms (22,000 pounds) of marijuana from Canada into the United States for subsequent distribution in the United States.

b. In addition to marijuana, the Ton Organization imported 3,4-methylenedioxymethamphetamine, commonly known as "MDMA" or "ecstasy," a Schedule I controlled substance. The MDMA came in pill form, typically in loads consisting of 40,000 to 60,000 pills at a time, which were purchased at prices ranging from $2.25 to $3.00 (U.S.) per pill. Thus, if the Ton Organization purchased a shipment of 40,000 MDMA pills, the cost would range from $90,000 to $120,000. The MDMA pills which the Ton Organization trafficked were made by criminals, were not of pharmaceutical grade, and were not made to exacting specifications. These pills usually contained MDMA, but also contained other controlled substances including, but not limited to, methamphetamine, a Schedule II controlled substance. During the period of the importation conspiracy, the Ton Organization imported in excess of 300,000 MDMA pills from Canada into the United States for subsequent distribution in the United States.

c. Occasionally, the Ton Organization purchased marijuana and/or MDMA from another drug trafficking organization in Philadelphia. However, members of the Ton Organization understood that the other Philadelphia organization was obtaining the marijuana and/or MDMA directly from the same group of Canadian sources that was supplying the Ton Organization. Consequently, the Ton Organization was able to offer product consistency to its customer base.

The Canadian Suppliers and Transporters

3. The Ton Organization dealt with Canadian-based suppliers who generally operated independently from one another and are not charged in this superseding indictment. The Ton Organization sought the best deal from competing drug suppliers.

4. On many occasions, the marijuana and MDMA shipments were smuggled into the United States from Canada by truck drivers employed by transportation agents who worked for one or more of the Canadian drug suppliers. On other occasions, the MDMA shipments were smuggled into the United States in hidden spaces in cars, vans, and small trucks, by individuals known and unknown to the grand jury who were working for, or under the direction of, the Ton Organization.

5. The money to pay the Canadian drug dealers was smuggled back into Canada from the United States by money couriers known and unknown to the grand jury. Some money couriers worked for the Canadian suppliers. Other money couriers worked directly for the Ton Organization. Sometimes the truck drivers who worked for the transportation agents also served as money couriers on return trips to Canada.

Structure of the Ton Organization

6. Defendant BENJAMIN TON was the leader of the Ton Organization. He operated principally from Philadelphia and Folcroft in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and, beginning in the autumn of 2003, also from Sicklerville in the District of New Jersey. During the period of the superseding indictment, TON directed, supervised, and managed the activities of various persons known to the grand jury, who comprised the Ton Organization, including SERGIO CALDERA, XUYEN BAO VO, PHUC VINH VO, DIANA RIVERA, LENA LOAN LE, and THUONG MINH LE, each of whom is a defendant in one or more of the counts of this superseding indictment, and others known and unknown to the grand jury.

7. TON personally negotiated the prices the Ton Organization would pay for drug loads to be smuggled into the United States from Canada. TON would choose among offers received from various Canadian drug supply sources, and would negotiate and approve the methods for smuggling loads of drugs from Canada into the United States. TON recruited and paid subordinates to work for the Ton Organization in the United States and Canada, supervised and directed the pick-up of drug loads that were smuggled into the United States, and approved the locations, including his own home in Folcroft, Pennsylvania, where the drugs would be hidden or stashed pending distribution for profit to drug traffickers in the United States. TON determined the sales prices to be charged drug dealers who were customers of the TON Organization. TON oversaw and directed the sale of controlled substances and the collection of payment from drug traffickers in the United States, and coordinated the smuggling back to Canada of payment monies for the drug shipments. On occasion, TON made the drug pick-ups, sales, and deliveries himself. TON sometimes collected the money payments himself and personally delivered the money to Canada. TON designated which member or members of the Ton Organization would be in charge of operations during periods when he would be out of the country or otherwise unavailable.

8. The Ton Organization maintained a representative in Toronto, Canada, known to the grand jury, who solicited competing prices from the Canadian suppliers, conveyed these quotes to TON, and otherwise assisted and facilitated the importation conspiracy by helping to coordinate such matters as the consolidation of loads, the selection of transportation agents, the payment of monies owed to the suppliers, and the smuggling into Canada of the payment monies. This broker received commissions based upon the number of units of the various drug shipments he brokered for sale and also was allowed to take equity positions in certain loads, i.e., a certain portion of the load would be deemed to be owned by the broker and the Ton Organization would sell it on behalf of the broker to its drug trafficking customers in the United States, with the proceeds going to the broker.

9. Defendant SERGIO CALDERA worked for the Ton Organization under the direction and supervision of BENJAMIN TON. CALDERA began working for the Ton Organization in or about January of 2003. CALDERA was compensated in various ways, including being a salaried employee, receiving commissions (usually in the range of 2 %) on the sums of United States currency he smuggled into Canada, and by being permitted to take equity positions in portions of drug shipments, particularly shipments of MDMA, smuggled into the United States from Canada. CALDERA operated principally from his residence in Philadelphia in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Among other things, CALDERA:

- a. met truck drivers who had smuggled drug loads across the international border into the United States, took possession of the drugs from them, and transported the drugs back to the Philadelphia area, where they were hidden pending sale to the Ton Organization's drug trafficking customers;
- b. delivered drug loads to the customers, collected money from the customers, and returned it to TON; and
- c. smuggled money into Canada in payment for drug loads, delivering hundreds of thousands of dollars at a time to the Ton Organization's broker in Toronto and also directly to Canadian suppliers.

10. Defendant PHUC VINH VO ("PHUC VO") worked for the Ton Organization under the direction and supervision of BENJAMIN TON. PHUC VO began working as an employee of TON in or about December of 2002 and operated principally from his home in Southwest Philadelphia. PHUC VO developed and accumulated a customer base among drug traffickers in the Philadelphia and southern New Jersey area and sold large quantities of marijuana and MDMA to these traffickers on behalf of the Ton Organization. PHUC VO was compensated in various ways, including commissions from the Ton Organization based on the volume of the sales he generated. PHUC VO was also permitted to take equity positions in certain drug shipments smuggled into the United States from Canada for sale by the Ton Organization. In addition, among other things, PHUC VO:

- a. met truck drivers who had smuggled drug loads across the international border into the United States, received the drug shipments from them, transported these drugs to the Philadelphia area, and stored or stashed them in various locations, including his home in Philadelphia;

- b. distributed drugs, both MDMA and marijuana, collected money for the drugs, and delivered the money to TON; and
- c. smuggled cash into Canada to pay the Canadian sources of drugs.

On certain occasions, including late September of 2004, when TON was in Vietnam or Canada, he placed PHUC VO in charge of the Ton Organization's activities.

11. Defendant XUYEN BAO VO (XUYEN VO") worked for the Ton Organization under the direction and supervision of BENJAMIN TON. XUYEN VO began working for TON as a salaried employee in or around January of 2004 and operated principally from Philadelphia and Eddystone, Pennsylvania. XUYEN VO's jobs for the Ton Organization included:

- a. meeting truck drivers who had smuggled drug loads across the international border into the United States, receiving drug shipments from the smugglers, transporting the drugs to the Philadelphia area, and hiding or stashing them in various places, including his home in Eddystone, Pennsylvania;
- b. delivering drugs to some of the Ton Organization's drug trafficking customers, collecting the money from the drug customers, returning the money to TON; and
- c. serving as a money courier for the Ton Organization, smuggling hundreds of thousands of dollars of drug proceeds back to Canada and delivering the money to the Ton Organization's broker in Toronto and directly to Canadian suppliers.

XUYEN VO was paid a commission for his money laundering activities, usually about 2 % of the sum of money laundered per occasion. XUYEN VO was placed in charge of the Ton Organization by TON on at least one occasion, in October of 2004, when TON was away. XUYEN VO was also allowed to add his own mark-up on drugs he sold on behalf of the Ton Organization.

12. Beginning in or around August 2004, Defendant DIANA RIVERA worked for the Ton Organization under the general supervision of BENJAMIN TON and the direct supervision of SERGIO CALDERA. RIVERA was a money laundering courier employed by the Ton Organization. RIVERA smuggled hundreds of thousands of dollars, constituting the purchase price for drug loads, from the United States, including the Philadelphia area, to Canada. During the period from in or about August 2004 up to and including November 2004, RIVERA made over four money smuggling trips to Canada. In Canada, RIVERA delivered the smuggled money to the Ton Organization's broker in Toronto and to a Canadian supplier, known to the grand jury, in Toronto. RIVERA was paid a commission by the Ton Organization for this smuggling activity. RIVERA also smuggled more than 100,000 of MDMA pills from Canada into the United States on behalf of the Ton Organization on the return portions of certain money laundering trips, and delivered the pills to CALDERA in the Philadelphia area. RIVERA operated principally from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

13. Defendant LENA LOAN LE, formerly married to BENJAMIN TON, worked for the Ton Organization under the direction and supervision of TON during the period of this superseding indictment. LENA LOAN LE assisted the Ton Organization by opening bank accounts and safe deposit boxes at financial institutions in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and New Jersey. LENA LOAN LE placed these bank accounts and safe deposit boxes in her own name exclusively to launder and conceal the Ton Organization's cash from the sale of drugs. LENA LOAN LE made cash deposits and withdrawals to and from the bank accounts and safe deposit boxes pursuant to TON'S direction, when cash was needed to pay for drug loads or otherwise to promote the on-going conduct of the Ton Organization's drug importation and trafficking activities. LENA LOAN LE operated principally from Philadelphia and from her residences in Folcroft in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and, beginning in the autumn of 2003, in Sicklerville in the District of New Jersey.

14. Defendant THUONG MINH LE worked for the Ton Organization under the direction and supervision of BENJAMIN TON during the period from Autumn of 2003 to Autumn of 2004. THUONG MINH LE was a large-scale marijuana and MDMA distributor and customer of the Ton Organization. Beginning in early 2003, THUONG MINH LE recurrently obtained large quantities of marijuana and MDMA from the Ton Organization. THUONG MINH LE's drug distribution operations were based primarily in Louisiana and Philadelphia. During the course of the conspiracy, THUONG MINH LE purchased and partially paid for in excess of 100 kilograms of marijuana and in excess of 90,000 MDMA pills from the Ton Organization. These drugs were delivered to THUONG MINH LE in Philadelphia by BENJAMIN TON, PHUC VO, and/or XUYEN VO. Sometimes, drugs were delivered to THUONG MINH LE in Louisiana. In early 2004, when another drug organization failed to pay drug debts owed to the Ton Organization, THUONG MINH LE and PHUC VO, at the direction of TON, stole MDMA from that organization to help minimize the Ton Organization's loss.

When TON traveled to Vietnam in July of 2004 and was unavailable to run the Ton Organization, he placed THUONG MINH LE in charge of MDMA distribution by the Ton Organization.

CONTINUING CRIMINAL ENTERPRISE

15. From in or about December, 2002 through on or about November 7, 2004, in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and elsewhere, defendant

BENJAMIN TON did knowingly and intentionally commit multiple felony violations of subchapters I and II of Chapter 13 of Title 21, United States Code, and which were a part of a continuing series of violations of subchapters I and II of Chapter 13 of Title 21, United States Code, including, but not limited to, Counts 2, 4, 5, and 27 of this superseding indictment;

b. the series of violations described in paragraph (a) were undertaken by BENJAMIN TON in concert with five or more persons, known and unknown to the grand jury, with respect to whom BENJAMIN TON occupied a position of organizer, supervisor, and manager; and

c. BENJAMIN TON obtained substantial income and resources from the violations described in paragraphs (a) and (b) above.

In violation of Title 21, United States Code, Section 848.

COUNT TWO

(Conspiracy to Import Marijuana and MDMA)

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER CHARGES THAT:

1. From in or about December 2002 through on or about November 7, 2004, in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and elsewhere, defendants

BENJAMIN TON,
a/k/a “BAO,”
a/k/a “STEVE NORTON,”
SERGIO CALDERA,
a/k/a “THE MEXICAN GUY,” XUYEN BAO VO,
a/k/a “JOHN,”
PHUC VINH VO, and DIANA RIVERA,

conspired and agreed together, and with other persons known and unknown to the grand jury, to knowingly and intentionally import a mixture and substance containing a detectable amount of marijuana, a Schedule I controlled substance, weighing more than 1,000 kilograms and a mixture and substance containing a detectable amount of 3,4-methylenedioxymethamphetamine, commonly known as “MDMA” and/or “ecstasy,” a Schedule I controlled substance, into the United States from a place outside thereof, that is, Canada, in violation of Title 21, United States Code, Sections 952(a), 960(a), 960(b)(1)(G), and 960(b)(3).

MANNER AND MEANS

It was part of the conspiracy that:

2. Defendants BENJAMIN TON, SERGIO CALDERA, XUYEN BAO VO, PHUC VINH VO, and DIANA RIVERA, directed the importation and imported illegal drugs, as set forth in paragraphs 1 through 12 of Count One, which are re-alleged and incorporated herein.

3. When one or more of the co-conspirators took possession of imported drugs from the transportation agent who smuggled them across the United States/Canada border, the drugs were brought to the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, where, pending sale to the Ton Organization's customers, the drugs would be hidden in PHUC VO's Southwest Philadelphia residence, SERGIO CALDERA's Philadelphia residence, XUYEN BAO VO's Eddystone residence, DIANA RIVERA's Philadelphia residence, or BENJAMIN TON's Folcroft residence. Beginning in late October 2003, when BENJAMIN TON took up residence in Sicklerville, New Jersey, relatively small quantities of drugs were hidden there on occasion. The vast majority of drugs remained hidden in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and were transported to the distribution sites for sale to the Ton Organization's customers.

All in violation of Title 21, United States Code, Section 963.

COUNT THREE

(Conspiracy to Launder Monetary Instruments)

THE GRAND JURY FURTHER CHARGES THAT:

1. From in or about December 2002 through on or about November 7, 2004, in Philadelphia, in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and elsewhere, defendants

BENJAMIN TON,
a/k/a "BAO,"
a/k/a "STEVE NORTON,"
SERGIO CALDERA,
a/k/a "THE MEXICAN GUY,"
XUYEN BAO VO,
a/k/a "JOHN,"
PHUC VINH VO,
DIANA RIVERA, and LENA LOAN LE,

conspired and agreed together and with other persons known and unknown to the grand jury, to knowingly transport and transfer monetary instruments and funds, that is, more than $25,000,000 of United States currency from a place in the United States to a place outside the United States, that is, Canada, with the intent to promote the carrying on of specified unlawful activity, specifically, the importation of controlled substances in violation of 21 U.S.C. § 952(a) and the distribution of controlled substances in violation of 21 U.S.C. § 841(a)(1), all in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1956(a)(2)(A).

MANNER AND MEANS

It was part of the conspiracy that:

2. Defendants BENJAMIN TON, SERGIO CALDERA, XUYEN VO, PHUC VO, DIANA RIVERA, and LENA LOAN LE, participated in the generation of cash proceeds from the sale of illegal drugs, as set forth in paragraphs 1 through 13 of Count One, which are re-alleged and incorporated herein.

3. BENJAMIN TON and members of the Ton Organization, including SERGIO CALDERA, PHUC VO, and XUYEN VO, collected cash payments for drugs distributed by the Ton Organization to its drug trafficking customer base in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and elsewhere. The co-conspirators consolidated the cash payments in their residences in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, before transferring it to TON's residence, where it would be counted and packaged in preparation for smuggling across the border from the United States into Canada, for delivery to the Ton Organization's Canadian drug suppliers. Until late October 2003, TON resided in Folcroft in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. After October 2003, TON resided in Sicklerville, New Jersey.

4. The cash drug proceeds were typically bundled and concealed inside a secret compartment in a motor vehicle or in voids in the body of the motor vehicle used in the smuggling operation.

5. Sometimes the cash drug proceeds were delivered in the United States to representatives of the Canadian suppliers or Canadian transportation agents, who smuggled the money into Canada. Other times the cash drug proceeds were smuggled into Canada by members of the Ton Organization, including CALDERA, PHUC VO, XUYEN VO, and RIVERA. Sometimes TON smuggled the cash drug proceeds into Canada to pay the Canadian suppliers. Members of the Ton Organization normally smuggled cash drug proceeds to Canada by driving from Philadelphia via the Pennsylvania Turnpike to Interstate 81, to the New York Thruway, traveling west to the international border, and crossing into Canada at Buffalo or Niagara Falls.

6. The courier who smuggled the money into Canada normally was paid a commission based on a percentage of the sum of cash drug proceeds transported into Canada.

7. TON maintained a safe deposit box in which he would hold sums of cash drug proceeds. TON kept the safe deposit box in the name of LENA LOAN LE. When TON needed cash to make a payment for drugs, he would direct LENA LOAN LE to go to the safe deposit box in her sole name and withdraw the cash needed to conduct the continuing criminal enterprise he operated.

In violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1956(h).

COUNT FOUR

(Conspiracy to Distribute Marijuana and MDMA)

THE GRAND JURY CHARGES FURTHER THAT:

1. From in or about December 2002 through on or about November 7, 2004, in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and elsewhere, defendants

BENJAMIN TON,
a/k/a “BAO,”
a/k/a “STEVE NORTON,”
SERGIO CALDERA,
a/k/a “THE MEXICAN GUY,”

MICHAEL NGUYEN,
a/k/a “TURTLE,”
a/k/a “MIKE,”

PHENG SENG,
a/k/a “PANG,” TRI C. DOAN,

ROBERT HAMPTON, JR.,
a/k/a “ROB,” NHUT QUANG LE,
a/k/a “NICK,”
KEVIN LE,
HIEU BUI,
SOMBATH BUNKEUT,
a/k/a “SAM,” HIEU CHAU,
a/k/a “HIEU GA,”

conspired and agreed together, and with other persons known and unknown to the grand jury, to knowingly and intentionally distribute a mixture and substance containing a detectable amount of marijuana, a Schedule I controlled substance, weighing more than 1,000 kilograms, and a mixture and substance containing a detectable amount of 3,4-methylenedioxymethamphetamine, commonly known as “MDMA” and/or “ecstasy,” a Schedule I controlled substance, in violation of Title 21, United States Code, Sections 841(a)(1) and 841(b)(1)(A).

It was part of the conspiracy that:

2. Defendants BENJAMIN TON, SERGIO CALDERA, XUYEN BAO VO, PHUC VINH VO, and THUONG MINH LE, directed and implemented the distribution of illegal drugs, as set forth in paragraphs 1 through 11 and 14 of Count One, which are re-alleged and incorporated herein.

3. The Ton Organization developed and maintained a large and stable customer base consisting of large-scale drug distributors, including but not limited to defendants SUONG

THACH, THA THACH, THUY A. LE, DANH MAC, TOAN KIM, NHAN VO, MICHAEL NGUYEN, NICK LAY, PHENG SENG, TRI C. DOAN, NHUT QUANG LE, KEVIN LE, CUONG PHAM, SANG MINH TIEU, HIEU BUI, ROBERT HAMPTON, JR., SOMBATH BUNKEUT, and HIEU CHAU (“customer co-conspirators”), who operated not only from the Philadelphia area, but other areas of the United States as well. As set forth below, these customer co-conspirators purchased marijuana and/or MDMA in bulk quantities at wholesale prices from the Ton Organization and then resold the drugs for profit to other drug dealers known and unknown to the grand jury. The customer coconspirators provided a consistent demand for marijuana and MDMA from the Ton Organization that allowed the Ton Organization to prosper, expand, and function internationally during the period of the conspiracy as a high volume wholesale drug distribution enterprise. Defendants SUONG THACH, THA THACH, THUY A. LE, DANH MAC, TOAN KIM, NHAN VO, MICHAEL NGUYEN, NICK LAY, PHENG SENG, TRI C. DOAN, NHUT QUANG LE, KEVIN LE, CUONG PHAM, SANG MINH TIEU, HIEU BUI, ROBERT HAMPTON, JR., SOMBATH BUNKEUT, and HIEU CHAU knew and understood that the marijuana and MDMA would be imported in quantity from Canada on a regular on-going basis, inquired about the current availability of the drug or drugs they wanted to buy, inquired when the next shipment would arrive in the event that the Ton Organization was momentarily out of inventory, and knew that they were part of a large customer base, whose members were dependant for their own financial success upon the success of the Ton Organization and also of each other, inasmuch as the Ton Organization’s large stable customer base gave them access to large quantities of marijuana and MDMA of high quality at wholesale prices on a consistent and on-going basis.

4. The Ton Organization distributed the marijuana and MDMA to the customer coconspirators on a full, or at least partial, consignment basis, with payment for the drugs supplied to be made after the customer co-conspirator had resold a sufficient portion of his consignment to be able to pay the purchase price. Each of the customer coconspirators purchased controlled substances on consignment from the Ton Organization during the course of the conspiracy.

5. Codes were used within the Ton Organization when talking about drug transactions. These codes were commonly understood and used by the customer co-conspirators as well as TON, CALDERA, PHUC VO, XUYEN VO, and THUONG MINH LE. Marijuana was referred to by various terms, including but not limited to “the big ones,” “the Van stuff,” “Heineken,” “cakes,” “blueberry,” “AAA,” and “purple haze.” Likewise, MDMA was referred to by various terms, including, but not limited to “the small ones,” “candies,” and various so-called brand names deriving from logos stamped on the pills, such as “torch,” “puppy,” “strawberry,” “music note,” “Mercedes,” “Rolex,” “squares,” and “Christmas tree.” Money to pay for drug consignments was referred to as “the papers.” Couriers who smuggled drugs from Canada into the United States and payment money from the United States back to Canada were referred to as “horses.” The purpose for using these codes was to disguise and conceal the actual activities of the co-conspirators from discovery by outsiders, especially members of law enforcement who might overhear these conversations through court-ordered electronic surveillance or otherwise.

6. Defendant SUONG THACH was a large-scale marijuana and MDMA distributor and customer of the Ton Organization, who purchased marijuana and MDMA from it for distribution at a profit to other drug dealers throughout the period of the conspiracy. During the course of the conspiracy, SUONG THACH purchased and paid for in excess of 1,000 kilograms of marijuana and in excess of 40,000 MDMA pills from the Ton Organization. SUONG THACH purchased drugs on consignment and used the Ton Organization's codes in drug conversations. From the beginning of the conspiracy in December of 2002 until late April of 2003, SUONG THACH led a drug distribution crew that included defendants THA THACH and TOAN KIM, among others. This crew disbanded in late April of 2003, after which time SUONG THACH and his former crew members continued their drug distribution activities, while maintaining their individual supply relationships with the Ton Organization. SUONG THACH normally received drug distributions in Philadelphia directly from BENJAMIN TON, particularly in the period before and up to late April 2003. SUONG THACH also received drug deliveries in Philadelphia from PHUC VO and XUYEN VO. SUONG THACH's distribution operation was based primarily in Philadelphia.

7. Defendant THA THACH, a/k/a "HUNG," was a large-scale marijuana and MDMA distributor and customer of the Ton Organization, who purchased marijuana and MDMA for distribution at a profit to other drug dealers from December 2002 to November 7, 2004. From December 2002 through late April 2003, THA THACH aided and abetted SUONG THACH in distributing drugs that SUONG THACH received from the Ton Organization. After April 2003, THA THACH operated his own drug distribution business, which was based principally in the Camden, New Jersey area, with drug deliveries normally being made to him in Philadelphia and Camden, New Jersey, by BENJAMIN TON, TOAN KIM, PHUC VO, and/or XUYEN VO. THA THACH purchased drugs on consignment and used the Ton Organization's codes in drug conversations. During the period from May 2003 through November 7, 2004, THA THACH purchased and paid for in excess of 300 kilograms of marijuana and in excess of 1,000 MDMA pills from the Ton Organization. THA THACH was aided and abetted in his drug distribution business by THUY A. LE.
